Julieta Stack

Director of Instruction

Baltimore's Classic Five

Julieta began her teaching career in Sarasota, Florida, in 1989. From 1995 to 1997, she was the lead instructor at the Capital City Golf School, one of the busiest golf schools in the country, supervising the development of its instructors and curriculum. She became an LPGA Class A Member in 1996.

She competed professionally beginning in 1990 with highlights including twice being an alternate to the US Women's Open, an LPGA Tour Qualifier finalist and a Women's French Open appearance in 1997.

In 1999 she formed InnerDrive Golf in order to grow a virtual golf community in the Baltimore-DC area where she could combine her love of travel with golf. She has led tours to Ireland, Scotland, England, Wales, Argentina, Canada as well as many top golf resorts in the US.

She has served as a teaching professional at Pine Ridge Golf Course since 2006 where she has grown the game through private lessons, group classes, as well as overseeing a burgeoning junior golf program. Julieta developed a program for new golfers, helping take them from their first lesson to their first on-course playing experience with confidence. She has also created innovative classes that blend health and fitness principles with golf.

She is a volunteer mentor at St. Vincent's Center and donates hours of instruction every season to local charities so they can auction them off to raise funds. Formerly, she was the head golf coach at Notre Dame Prep and a board member at The Village Learning Place in Charles Village.
